PHOENIX, OCTOBER 9, 1907.

Butcher Weyler is now open to an engagement with some first class slaughter house in Spain.

If it wasn't for the occasional writings of unmarked graves, some of our buried heroes would never be heard of.

And now Japan wants to settle with Hawaii for the mere bagatelle of $100,000. But Hawaii does not seem to jump at the offer.

Bismarck is said to have the biggest head in Germany. It is natural, however, and not swelled, like the cranium of the young war lord.

At one of the Alaska towns September 5 the temperature was four degrees below zero. That was just a playful preliminary hint from the frost king.

There is a movement to put Cleveland somewhere in public life from New Jersey. Let us hope that New Jersey has not lost its head lately. His ponderosity is only useful in negative positions.

The four states of Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska have raised over 950,000 bushels of corn this year. That looks like good times, and it is only one of the items.

A street just opened in New York has the sidewalks and curbs laid not more than two inches above the paving stones. It serves as an object lesson on the Tammany methods of robbing a city.

A St. Louis woman got $4,000 for her husband from a woman who really loved him. Out this way women generally have to pay big fees to lawyers to get rid of their husbands if they are loved by others.

A telegram congratulating George Williams, Mr. Bryan said, "The Chicago platform is being vindicated by events." The key to the riddle must be in the "is being," indicating a mysterious process not yet visible.

Anyway, Mr. Bryan is better off just now than he would be, had he been elected last fall. Fifty thousand dollars in six months is better than the same amount in twice the length of time, particularly with the fun he is having, thrown in.

When a Chinaman desires to go back to China he hires himself to Mexico, makes believe he is attempting to illegally enter the United States and is at once deported to the Celestial Kingdom without cost to himself. For good business tact commend us to the Heathen Chinese.

Despite the fact that a liberal cabinet has been established in Spain, Cuba will continue her fight for liberty. The Spanish government has sinned away its day of grace and must now suffer the absolute loss of Cuba, unless the United States makes some proposition for purchasing the island, which would be foolish to do at this juncture.

One feature about the yellow fever epidemic, is the few deaths that occur. While there is a large number of cases afflicted with the disease, the fatal results are comparatively few. This means that the physicians are better able to cope with the disease, and that medical equipment has progressed so far as to check the ravages which it formerly effected.

The efforts of the democrats of Ohio to discredit Senator Hanna with the workmen of the state, are being resented by the workmen themselves. As the man who ably assisted in bringing about the republican victory of last fall, Senator Hanna naturally holds a warm place in the hearts of the workmen, whom the republican administration has aided so beneficially.

THE FALL ELECTIONS.

The outlook is very bright for republican victories in most of the states where elections are to be held this fall. Although for the most part the contests are for offices of little national importance, the results even in cities and townships all over the country are looked for with great interest. While the contests in Ohio, New York and Maryland are beyond doubt of the greatest importance, there are contests in other states which excite much interest. The reason for this is that the people are anxious to know the sentiment of their neighbors, and to see how they are affected by the results of the last presidential campaign. In three states the fight will determine the election of a United States senator, while in other states there are important state officials to be chosen including governors, judges of the supreme court and state officers.

In Maryland and Ohio the legislature is to be chosen and a United States senator elected. In New York the contest for the control of Greater New York overshadows everything else. In Massachusetts, Ohio, Virginia and Iowa governors will be elected, while Kentucky elects a clerk of the court of appeals, Pennsylvania a state treasurer and auditor, Nebraska a judge of the supreme court and regent of the university and Colorado elects a chief justice. There are various municipal elections in these states which also attract much attention.

The reports from Ohio during the last week have been most encouraging, and it is stated that the republicans have come together in Cincinnati, where they were badly divided, and the sound money forces are united against the democrats. The latter have found that they are losing ground on the silver issue and are trying to keep it out of the campaign, but their efforts are only stirring up opposition. The fight in Maryland is against Gorman and Gormanism. The trouble in the republican party over the leadership of Senator Wellington, which threatened so much during the summer, has been done away with by the senator's retirement, and the whole republican forces are now working in harmony. The registration in Baltimore, which closes this week, has been remarkably large, and is altogether favorable to the republicans. Throughout the state there is a confident feeling and it is now almost assured that a republican will succeed Senator Gorman in the United States senate next year.

While there does not now appear to be any reason to doubt that the more important of the fall elections will be carried by the supporters of republican principles, the fact must be recognized that the forces opposed to these principles are active and are employing the same appeals to class prejudice which they used more or less effectively in last year's campaign.

An endorsement of republican principles this year in those states which exert the greatest influence upon national politics would have a powerful effect adverse to the popocratic cause, which would be felt in the congressional elections of next year very greatly to the advantage of the republican cause. In the meantime it would steady and strengthen financial confidence and prevent any check to the industrial and business property which has made such happy progress since the election of McKinley.

HOME MAKERS TO THE FRONT.

If political tricksters, robbers and adventurers calling themselves republicans and democrats cannot be headed off in any other way, there should be formed a league of the honest men of Arizona, regardless of party, and a monster petition forwarded to Washington, praying that Arizona may have authority to elect their own public officials, still retaining the territorial form of government. As long as Arizona is the political dumping ground for the riff-raff of eastern ward heelers, aided by the scattering local scum of the earth, so long will the home maker and property holder be burdened with taxes and more taxes until he becomes manacled to his possessions which are an ever increasing burden instead of a profit to him. Awake! arise, oh ye apathetic spirits, ere the vampires suck the last drop of blood from your veins.—Prescott Courier.

"Ye apathetic spirits" must be beyond redemption if they fail to rouse to this clarion call. We venture the assertion that the Honest Men's league will be formed and that the first names on the "monster petition" will be those of the editor of the Courier and Buckey O'Neill. Get thee gone, Satan! The overtaxed home maker is on thy trail!

Nebraska silverites are becoming alarmed, now that the fall election draws near. The central committee recently issued a letter warning all loyal silverites to be on guard against republicans who were charged in the letter with being on a "still hunt." The disturbed mind of the free silverite is the seat of all sorts of weird imaginings, and in his apprehension he is likely to make any sort of an outburst. The republicans will carry the state, and that is what the free silverites realize.

POINTS ABOUT PEOPLE.

D. L. Moody, the evangelist, will lead a revival in Philadelphia during the coming winter.

Emperor William of Germany has decided, it is reported, that in future at all his meetings with the czar he will wear his new uniform of a Russian admiral. This uniform is not blue, like those of the other European navies, but black.

Professor Holmgren of the University of Upsala, who has just died, established the first physiological institute in Sweden. He was chiefly known through his researches on color blindness and his plan of testing the color sense by means of wools.

Italy has just lost one of her scholars of European renown in the person of Professor Tommaso Vallauri, who began his career as a teacher in the University of Turin as early as 1833, and was appointed to the chair of Latin more than half a century ago.

Rev. Dr. Eliphalet Nott Potter, formerly president of Union and Herbert colleges, has accepted the presidency of the Cosmopolitan university extension, which was recently relinquished by President Andrews of Brown university.

Miss Anna Forbes Goodyear of Boston, well known for her work for the advancement of the poorer classes, is hard at work at present to perfect a plan to establish a farming colony in Washington, where the poor of the east may make comfortable homes.

Grover Cleveland has bought a large tract of unimproved land on the shores of Elbow Pond, six miles from his summer home, Gray Gables. He intends to stock the pond with black bass and other fish, and will build a lodge, where he will entertain his friends.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst says in a recent letter to a friend in New York: "I can not stand by the Sunday saloon pure and simple, but I do believe in allowing the sale of beer and light wines on Sunday, provided they are the accompaniment of an honest meal, honestly paid for."

Bar rooms in Norway cannot net fortunes to their owners, for by law no person may spend more than 6 cents at one visit to a public house.

Bee trees are being found in numbers in parts of Vermont this fall. One near Nashville held a honeycomb two feet long and several inches thick.

The German military authorities have decided that in future all bicycles for the army shall be constructed in the government establishments.

Samuel Andrew Gibbons, an old Georgia negro, claims to be 140 years old, and says he remembers the revolution and the meteoric shower of 1833.

A newspaper of Sherman county, Ore., says that it does not know of a farmer in the county who will not be able to discharge all his indebtedness this fall.

In the University of Paris there are over 10,000 medical students. At Vienna there are about 1,000 more. In Paris there are 8,000 students at the School of Fine Arts.

There are between 28,000 and 30,000 students in the different colleges of the University of Paris, several times as many as are found in any other educational institution in the world.

Patent 92,406 in the German patent record is: "Fraulein Elfrida Latkiewitz, apparatus for keeping the cheeks full. This apparatus is worn in the mouth and is fastened to the jaw."

The hand of Jim Stevenson, a Lexington negro, is said to measure eleven inches from the wrist to the tip of the middle finger. The thumb nail is described as of the size of a half dollar.
